Tue Jiji Shimpo, in an article on the development of the trade which has taken place lately. About nine years Jaranese matches began to be extensively exported to China. Competition naturally arose, however, and led to the production of an inferior article, and as a result the demand for Japaneso matches quickly deoreased. Many hitherto prosperous firms had to close, and for some time the trade in matches in Japan was considerably crippled, difficulty being experienced even jo supplying the domestic demand. After an interval of about three years, however, au improvement took place and the demand in Hongkong, Shanghai, and other places was greatly increased, with the result that the industry has aprung into new life at Kobe. There are at least three large factories employing from 700 to 1,000 hands, in thirteen smaller factories give employment to from 300 to 400 work-people.

THE SANITARY COMMISSION. To the Editor of the China Mail.

10th December.

Sin,-Referring to my letter in your Sa lurday's edition, I see by the Government Cazette-that rumour, alas, turns out to be only too true regarding the composition the Commission to inquire into the cause of the fever, and that the Governor has been lad astray into appointing a Commission consisting entirely of a edical men. Now some of these men have told their patients all along that the fever is of a pure malarial type, (which now appears to be open to question); others, that it is caused entire'y by the earth cutting; others, again, that it is brought on by the sun, and so on. We shall therefore have tack one trying to work out his own particular theory. they will one and all be very leath to have THE Mainichi Shimbun hears that the fact | to admit that what they have told their pathat Mr. Iwasaki, the weelthiest merchant | tients all along is not true. Again, seeing in Japan, is largely purchasing Chinese that all the leading doctors are on the Commission, it leaves hardly any of the profession for them to examine, or is it intended that the balance of the Commission are to take it in turns to examine one of themselves, as, if so, this would result in some pretty fencing, which, "as overy examination must be held in public, will be rather sport.

How the Surveyor General must be laughing up his sleeve at the way he has worked matters, and the case with which he will be able to bamboozle the Commission. Indeed, without an Engineer on the Commission, this their chief witness, with regard to the engineering part of the question, they will be quite unable to examine offectually, and they will thus be driven to glean what information they may be able to draw out of his su ordinates in the office and the overseers who have had the notual carrying out of the work, all of whom will naturally endeavour to shield the head of their Department. Legally also, unless the Crown Solicitor is to attend all their meetings and direct the whole proceeding, they must surely come to grief, and the true cause of the fever will remain the mystery it now is, to kill and destroy the constitution of its victims at its own sweet will .-
